Business challenge: CURT Manufacturing's goal was to gain the ability to create unique, custom forms for customers.

Outcome: Now with Infor Formtastic™, they are able to quickly and efficiently create unique, custom forms for customers.

Forms Creation for Infor Users

CURT Manufacturing LLC is a manufacturer, importer, and distributor of towing system products, original equipment trailer products and specialty equipment products that combine competitive price, unsurpassed quality, and unparalleled aesthetics.

Recently, CURT Manufacturing has formed partnerships with customers such as Amazon® and other large eCommerce based companies. In order to comply with the needs of these larger customers, it was necessary to design and provide customized packing slips. CURT Manufacturing selected Infor Formtastic™, the electronic forms and laser checks solution for the IBM i (System i, iSeries, and AS/400). Infor Formtastic seamlessly integrates with CURT Manufacturing's ERP, Infor XA, and has enabled users at CURT Manufacturing to save time, and create customized forms when needed. "The good thing is that our new process [using Infor Formtastic] of creating custom pack slips happens very quickly, to the point where our associates hit the enter button, walk to the printer, and out comes the pack slip, no standing around waiting," said Tim Hau, Director of Information Technology at CURT Manufacturing.

Seamless Integration with Infor ERP

After Infor Formtastic was suggested to CURT Manufacturing by one of their partners, management reviewed the product, and recognized its superior functionality, seamless integration with Infor XA, and attractive price before concluding that the Infor Formtastic product was the best fit. "Our ability to provide a simple mechanism to design and produce custom forms along with 'off the shelf' Infor XA integration, set the Infor Formtastic product apart, surpassing all other competition for CURT Manufacturing," said Michael R. Rooney, IntelliChief LLC Vice President of Sales and Marketing.

Better Functionality & More Efficiency

"During the initial training, it became obvious that Infor Formtastic's functionality was clear and easy to understand, to the point where the entry level person who runs the development process was able to quickly pick up on it and take ownership to make it all happen," said Tim Hau, Director of Information Technology at CURT Manufacturing.

For those looking for efficiency in their forms creation, Infor Formtastic is the solution of choice. The solution allows for the effective design of electronic documents, including invoices, purchase orders, order acknowledgements, bills of lading, bar code labels, laser MICR checks, and other business forms associated with IBM i applications. The solution's user-friendly interface makes it possible to design forms, map spool file data, add conditioning statements, and preview final documents without programming or coding.

Infor Formtastic Key Benefits

- Save resources and funds dedicated to form production and delivery, including toner, postage, envelopes, and time spent faxing
- Improve appearance of documents for a more professional presentation
- Eliminate expensive pre-printed forms and cumbersome inventory management
- Streamline workflow, and save time and money by reducing human error

Customized Forms Package

CURT Manufacturing asked for IntelliChief LLC to design their forms package to match the specific needs of their company. "To me, the very welcomed part of this effort was the fact that [our supplier] listened and came through with the functionality that we required when we needed it," said Tim Hau, Director of Information Technology at CURT Manufacturing.

The superior electronic forms created by Infor Formtastic can be printed or saved as PDF or TIFF files and automatically faxed, emailed, stored in network folders or in archiving / imaging systems.
